

Prof. Dr. Rachel Mason

Rachel Mason is Professor of Art Education at Roehampton University, London.

She has taught art and art education in England, Australia and USA and is well known for her research and publications on multicultural, cross-cultural and international art education.

She is a former President and Vice President of the National Society for Education in Art and Design (NSEAD) and founded and edited the International Journal of Education through Art.

Her books include Art Education and Multiculturalism a second edition of which was published in 1996; International Dialogues in Visual Culture, Education and Art (co-edited with Teresa Eca and published in 2010), Beyond Multicultural Art Education: International Perspectives (co-edited with Doug Boughton and published in 1999); Issues in Arts Education in Latin America (co-edited with Larry O'Farrell and published in 2004) and Por Uma Arte Educação Multicultural (published in 2002).

She has directed national and international funded research projects. In the most recent project, called Images and Identity, teams of researchers in six European countries investigated the potential contribution of art education to citizenship learning.